

HEATING OIL

Home owners who use oil to heat their homes should be on their guard.

Heating oil can now be quite expensive and is a commodity that is in favour with thieves. Don't get caught out. Before you fill your tank for the winter, please invest in a good lock and consider an alarm.

To keep your home oil safe:

- Hide your tank from general view, screen it with hedges and fences and any other way which will keep your tank out of site
- Conceal all external pipework
- Install security lighting
- Check that oil is covered by your home contents policy
- Attach a good lock to the tank
